

A Visit from Maureen Jennings!

October 21st, 2017 at 2:00 p.m.

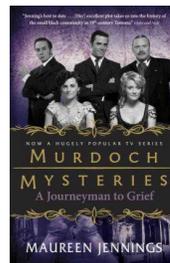

Register today for your chance to take part in a visit from Maureen Jennings, author of the Murdoch Mystery series.

This event is part of the Ontario Public Library Week celebrations

Vices of my blood

While investigating Reverend Charles Howard's death, Detective Murdoch finds himself deep inside the Toronto workhouses

A journeyman to grief

When both the current and former owner of the livery stable are found murdered, Detective Murdoch investigates Toronto's black community, making himself a target

Except the dying

A young girl's naked body is found in a deserted lane in the middle of winter, 1895, and Toronto Detective William Murdoch must find out why she had to die that way in order to prevent another similar murder

Dead ground in between

After the body of an old man is found by two evacuee children, Detective Inspector Tom Tyler, believing they aren't telling the whole truth, soon learns that they have run away from their foster home and he must find them

Beware this boy

Detective Inspector Tom Tyler is sent to investigate a factory bombing in 1940, he finds that tensions between the owners and workers are growing with the fear of communist infiltration and a young soldier who has gone AWOL

Does your mother know?

Canadian forensic profiler Christine Morris is called away from a conference in Edinburgh when her estranged mother has been involved in a vehicular homicide and is missing. What unfolds is a reconnection with her mother, and a plot against a prince who is planning a visit.
